REFUND POLICY

The following outlines St Mary's College's guidelines regarding refund of fees:

- In the event of a student failing to gain a student visa, all fees are refunded.
- In the event of a student gaining a visa but not arriving in the school, all fees are refunded apart from a small amount for homestay fees if the student withdraws at the last minute.
- In the event of a student arriving at the school and then withdrawing before completing two weeks in the school, the following fees are refunded:
 - All homestay fees once expenses have been paid (e.g.: telephone account and a fortnight's homestay fees in lieu)
 - 50% of tuition fees once any agent's fees and the Government levy have been deducted.
 - All stationery or uniform fees that are unspent as of that date.
- In the event of a student leaving the school after two weeks and before one term in the school, no fees are refunded, other than unused homestay fees, unless the student leaves on compassionate grounds (e.g.: sudden death in the family).
- In the event of a student leaving the school after one term, no fees are refunded other than unused homestay fees.
- In the event of a student being asked to leave the school or country before they have been in the school one term, no fees will be refunded other than unused homestay fees. [1]

[1] All international student homestay accommodation fees are kept in a clearly identifiable school cost centre account. Unused homestay accommodation fees, together with all other unused non-tuition fees, are refunded.*
